

WESTERN REPROGRAPHICS ASSOCIATION (WRA)

The Association for the Reprographics Industry

Western Reprographics Association (WRA) was established in 1957 to serve the reprographics community throughout the Western United States. WRA represents over ninety commercial reprographics firms engaged in the business of blueprinting, photocopying, duplicating, xerography, document or facsimile photo reproduction and suppliers.

Resources available to its members were designed to help them solve business problems; upgrade management skills; improve employee communications; cut costs and increase profits. WRA helps define members' goals to reach maximum profitability, efficiency, quality and growth patterns paralleling their companies potential.

As a member of WRA, your company has access to take advantage of PIASC's management assistance, Human Resources, Environmental, etc. PIASC is the management company for WRA. If you would like any additional services or referrals offered by PIASC please contact Monica Vargas at (323) 728-9500, Ext. 217.

The Association holds two Educational Membership Meetings, and an Annual Convention. These educational meetings will give you the latest information on technology, financial management, production management, sales and marketing for the Reprographics Industry.

The Association's annual convention is held in October. At this convention, you will hear about the latest management techniques from some of the top speakers in the country.
